Microsoft Access training

Are you looking for some free MS Access training? Microsoft provides a good library of Access training materials which are free to use on their web site.

Training materials are available in a variety of formats – mainly HTML and as short videos. Topics covered include:

- Introduction to Access
- Creating a database
- Adding tables
- Creating relationships
- Adding and editing data
- Managing data with queries
- Creating reports
- Creating forms
- Creating charts
- Protecting databases

Access 2013 Training

Microsoft also offers free training for the Access 2013 desktop application. This training covers essential topics for beginners, intermediate and advanced Access users.

Many of the training videos which are available on the Microsoft site also come with transcripts to accompany the videos. This means you can read the instructions later if you don't want to watch the video.

Microsoft Office

Microsoft Access is one of the core applications which forms part of the MS Office suite. Office is available both as a set of desktop applications and web-based applications. Microsoft Access is only available as a desktop application and is not available as a web application.

Microsoft also provides MS Office training for free for all its other Office products.
